INTRODUCTION

In 2009, Time Magazine listed "New Calvinism" as 3rd in its list of "10 Ideas Changing the World Right Now". It described how "Calvinism is back" and is "Evangelicalism's latest success story". Indeed, in the past 10 years, there has been a renewed interest in Reformed theology throughout churches in America, and this has changed the landscape of evangelical Christianity. With their pervasive use of the internet and social media, the influence of these New Calvinists has been felt worldwide.

Many are lauding this latest trend as an unprecedented revival in modern times, trumpeting it as an undeniable act of God in bringing churches back to orthodoxy and sound doctrines. Yet their brand of Calvinism is not a pure one. Although they seem to adopt aspects of Calvinistic soteriology (doctrine of salvation) and do emphasize the sovereignty of God, many of their teachings and practices fall short of what true historic Calvinism really is. Dr Peter Masters of Metropolitan Tabernacle described it as a "seriously distorted Calvinism... not a resurgence but an entirely novel formula which strips the doctrine of its historic practice, and unites it with the world."

This course seeks to make an objective assessment of this new movement, looking into its history, theology and practices, comparing them against true historic Calvinism, and ultimately against the truth of God's Word.

Speaker: Ko Ling Kang is a BTh and MDiv graduate of Far Eastern Bible College. He has just completed his ThM studies in historical theology at Puritan Reformed Theological Seminary (Grand Rapids, USA). He serves as Preacher at Calvary Pandan Bible-Presbyterian Church.
